What is Konjac?

Pure and Pollutant Free

Our 100% pure, biodegradable Konjac is free from chemicals, colouring, additives and irritants. This moisture-rich plant fibre is lovingly hand blended with natural volcanic water to create the ultimate skincare sponge.

Ethical Commitment

We are proud to carry the Leaping Bunny and Vegan Society symbols as signs of our commitment to producing natural, cruelty free skin care. All our sponges are made by hand from the purest food grade glucomannan (Konjac) fibre. We never cut corners or costs on ingredients or staff, and we certainly never 'sneak' an ingredient into our sponges. All ingredients are exclusively beneficial to the consumer. We believe in simple, pure and honest packaging..

THE KONJAC
RAINFOREST RANGE

Multi-Award Winning

We Are Proud

The Konjac Sponge Company was founded in 2011. Since its humble beginnings, the popularity of these original Konjac Sponges has grown at such a rate that we currently ship to over 60 countries winning many awards and accolades across our ever-expanding range of skin care products.

The keys to our success are consistency and quality. We are aware of a number of copycat and cheaper brands on the market – and whilst we are flattered that people are trying to replicate what we do, it is the users' experience that is ultimately compromised. The fact is that no one can replicate our patented formula – it just doesn't feel the same, and that's the business we're in: making people feel good about their skin. It's as simple as that. The Konjac Sponge Company team share this passion and are genuinely excited about our success.

How To Use

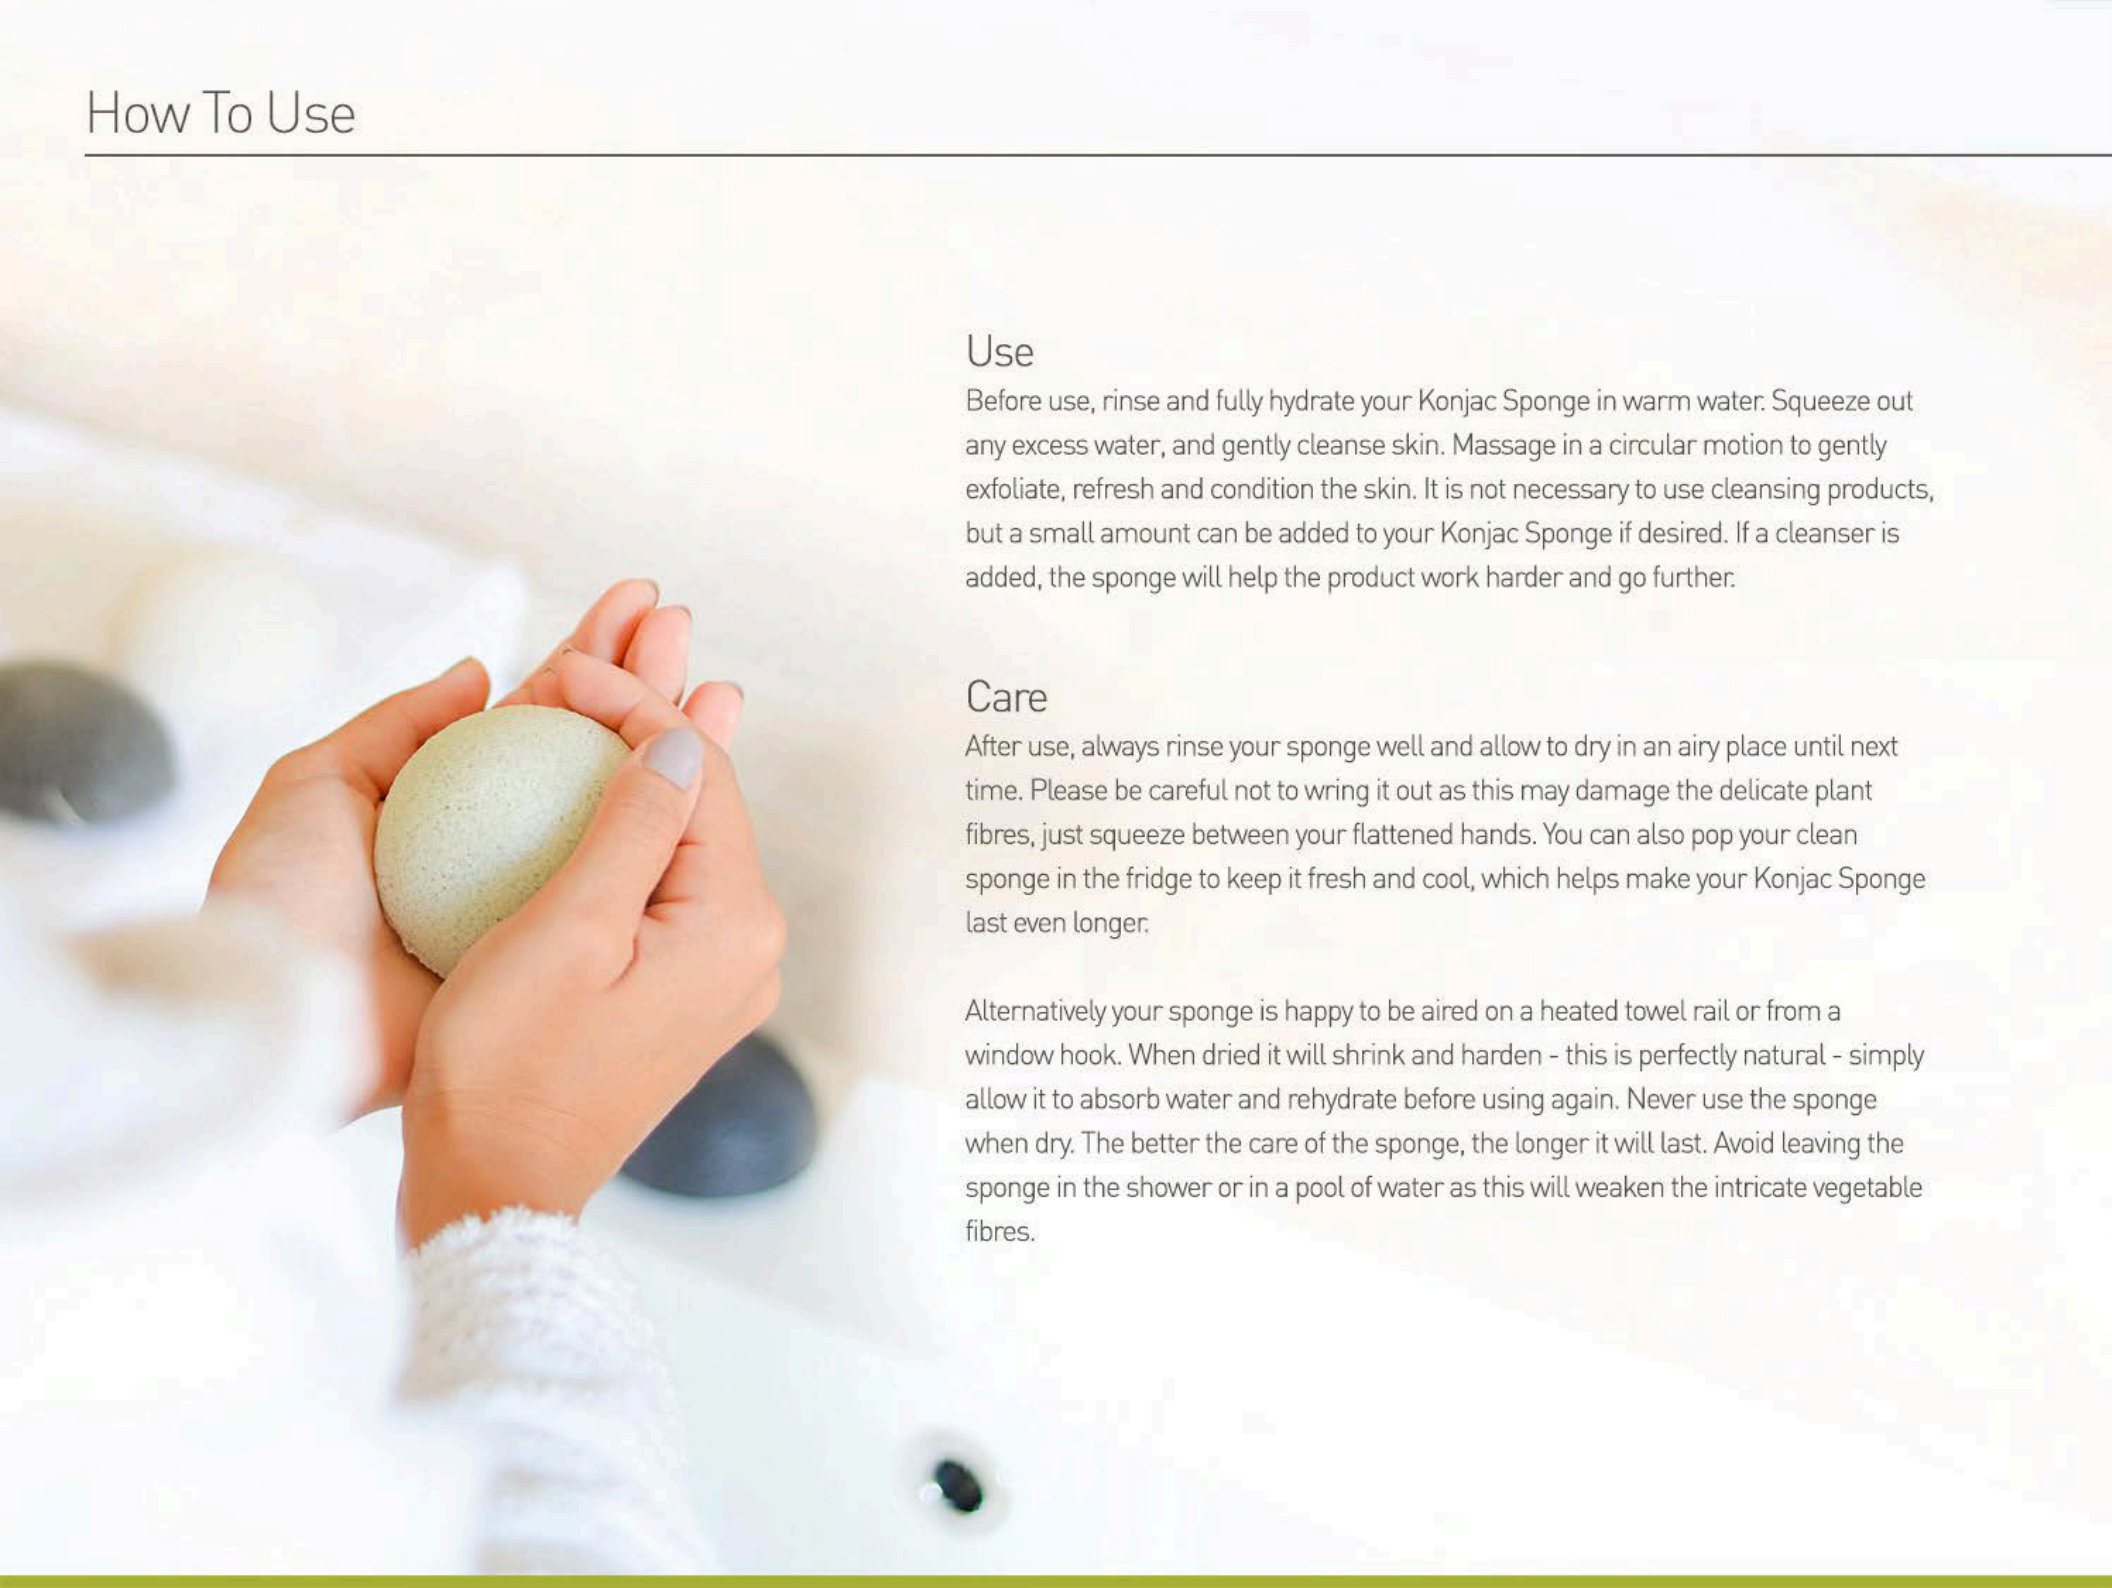

Use

Before use, rinse and fully hydrate your Konjac Sponge in warm water. Squeeze out any excess water, and gently cleanse skin. Massage in a circular motion to gently exfoliate, refresh and condition the skin. It is not necessary to use cleansing products, but a small amount can be added to your Konjac Sponge if desired. If a cleanser is added, the sponge will help the product work harder and go further:

Care

After use, always rinse your sponge well and allow to dry in an airy place until next time. Please be careful not to wring it out as this may damage the delicate plant fibres, just squeeze between your flattened hands. You can also pop your clean sponge in the fridge to keep it fresh and cool, which helps make your Konjac Sponge last even longer.

Alternatively your sponge is happy to be aired on a heated towel rail or from a window hook. When dried it will shrink and harden - this is perfectly natural - simply allow it to absorb water and rehydrate before using again. Never use the sponge when dry. The better the care of the sponge, the longer it will last. Avoid leaving the sponge in the shower or in a pool of water as this will weaken the intricate vegetable fibres.

The Konjac Sponge Company vs Copy Brands

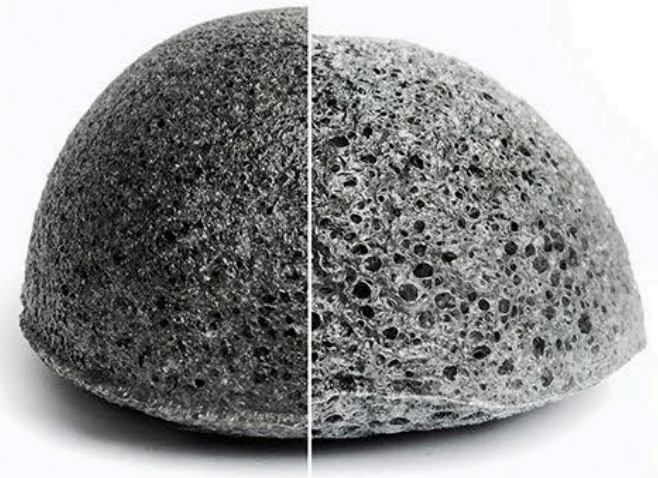

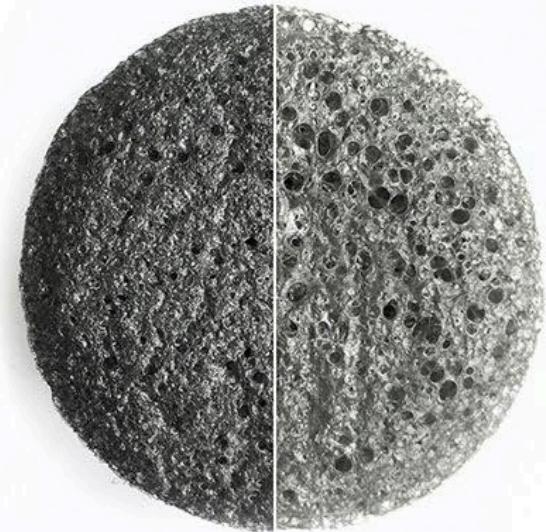

Not All Sponges Are Created Equal

We are the creators of the world's best-selling Konjac Sponges, as they are known in the western world. As the original Konjac Sponge brand, and the world's market leading multi-award winning sponge, we of course see copies trying to imitate our success. However, our unique patented formula ensures no one can replicate or even come close to creating a sponge of the same luxury quality. Our products may be frequently copied, but the superior performance and longevity of our sponges remains unrivalled.

We created a range of purely natural sponges that are 100% colouring and additive-free. Naturally, through our success, we have seen many 'copy' brands emerge. These will profess to be the same as our Konjac Sponges; however, we know this is not the case. Our manufacturing method is patented and therefore no one can replicate our quality or secret formula. Not only are our sponges softer, they last longer and the texture is more effective at cleansing. Replica sponges generally contain artificial colours and additives to speed up the manufacturing process and to stabilise the products, but this is not disclosed. We have even seen cases of sponges that claim to be organic when they are not. Some copy sponges are easy to spot as they appear beige in colour - this is because the sponge itself has been made from low-grade Konjac fibre. Our 100% Konjac sponges, on the other hand, are pure white. This is due to our commitment to producing the highest quality products. Konjac Sponges are made exclusively from the finest food grade flour and pure volcanic filtered water. The lower grade Konjac fibre found in imitation sponges generally contains impurities, which may harbour microbes and even bits of plant fibre that could potentially scratch or damage the skin.

The Konjac Sponge Company vs Copy Brands

We are familiar with each factory across Asia (there are only a few) that manufacture the sponges, and are confident that there is only one suitable and truly honest factory across the world that can generate the premium quality and have the credentials to supply the Western world. This is our factory in South Korea. We are the exclusive agents and part-owners of the factory. Therefore, this makes us the point of contact for any professional Konjac Sponge retailer/distributor who really cares about the quality of goods they provide to the end user.

Key Differences

- Created using an unrivalled patented and unique formula. Copy brands attempting to imitate our products cannot truly replicate the patented formula.
- The world's original no.1 brand and factory. Copy brands emerged due to our success.
- Honest packaging and ingredients. Imitation brands add ingredients and artificial colours to speed up the process and to make products 'look' better.
- We use food grade Konjac fibre. Copy sponges are cheaper for a reason - cheaper ingredients mean inferior ingredients. Potentially non-food grade Konjac fibre that has been rejected by the food industry due to mould, impurities and general poor quality.
- No artificial colours. Other brands add colouring as this disguises the uneven product mix.
- No artificial stabilisers. Some copy brands ingredients are unstable, so stabilisers are added to try to fix the added ingredients. The packaging will not state this, and other brands will generally deny any ingredients but scientific tests may show otherwise.
- Longer lasting products. Our product's unique formula ensures a softer, but deeper exfoliating experience with a more stable sponge, which can therefore last longer.
- Better user experience.
- No risk of microbes or skin damage. We stand by our purity. Copy brands cannot always do this.
- Vegan and Cruelty Free registered. Copy brands will often state this, but cannot provide evidence or proof of registration generally.

If the products appear to be brightly coloured, or images are inconsistent (lots of copy brands use our images and adapt them) then chances are you are not dealing with a very honest company. There are many other companies that state they make the sponges, however they are simply wholesaling, not manufacturing.
